Working Papers

- Jan. 2021 Inflation Uncertainty and Monetary Policy Announcements.
Working Summary: Household expectations about economic conditions drive a wide range of decisions including saving, borrowing, and consumption. The transmission of monetary policy rests on understanding how these expectations change, making central bank communication transparency key in aligning both sides. In this paper, I argue that monetary policy announcements have a significant impact on household beliefs, specifically in their uncertainty about future macroeconomic conditions, using the Survey of Consumer Expectations (SCE) by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.
- Apr. 2020 A Myopic Friction in US Business Cycles.
Working Summary: This paper studies the empirical fit of a standard dynamic stochastic general equilibrium (DSGE) model to US macroeconomic data altered by a bounded rationality assumption in agents' expectation formation. Bounded rationality is in the form of cognitive discounting, or "myopia", which quantifies how people pay less attention to events occurring further in the future. I use a Bayesian likelihood approach to compare the distribution of model parameters for when people are fully rational (i.e. rational expectations) and myopic.
